Rheumatism,
BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—
"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.
"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

BURYING LOUISVILLE'S DEAD.

The Number of Victims Has Not Reached One Hundred Thus Far—Digging for the Dead in the Debris—Fire Adds to the Horror—Harrowing Scenes.

LOUISVILLE, March 31.—If possible, the throngs of sightseers were even larger than the day previous, when the woful spectacle was first unfolded to the light of day in all its hideousness. Early trains brought hundreds of curious visitors and agents of relief from neighboring cities and towns to swell the multitude of those who wended with a local interest toward the scene, and the guards had much difficulty in maintaining their lines against the pressure. All night long the search parties continued their labors, and the sound of rattling wagons rose out of every street. Carpenters and tinners worked like beavers the whole day trying to repair broken roofs and strengthen dangerously weakened walls. Gangs of linemen were getting the tangled and broken wires of the telephone and telegraph out of the way for further repairs.

Funeral Bells Tolling.

Meanwhile the solemn tolling of church bells, the frequent passage of laden hearses and long lines of funeral carriages gave note to the hurrying crowd that the tornado's victims were passing to their last resting places.

Careful estimates by competent underwriters and salvage agents are nearly agreed that the damage to buildings of all classes, to domestic goods and commercial stocks will aggregate close to $2,500,000, with a liberal allowance for rebuilding repairs.

Ninety-four Dead.

The main point of comforting thought is that the loss of life will not prove nearly so great as at first supposed. At a late hour last night ninety-four names were borne on the list of dead, and of these but three were taken from the ruins during the day.

Burying the Dead.

The work of burying the dead went on with ghastly systematic briskness Sunday, and all of the hearses in the city were taxed to their utmost. One procession contained five hearses conveying the bodies of the unfortunate laundry girls—Maggie McClure, Mary Ryan, Bridget Crow, Maggie Campbell and Mary McGinty—whose funeral services were held at the cathedral at the same time.

Carriages $10 per Hour.

Humboldt lodge, I. O. O. F., remained at Cave Hill cemetery during the afternoon, and received one at a time the funeral processions of the ten members of that fraternity killed at the Falls City hall. The burials, with the ritual services of the order, occurred at half-hour intervals. So urgent were the demands on the undertakers that as a rule but two backs were allowed to each funeral.

Even with this arrangement the facilities were inadequate and the street cars, via Green street and Baxter avenue to the cemetery, were called into requisition as a more rapid means of funeral conveyances. Twenty-four funeral processions passed out Broadway during the day en route to Cave Hill. The funeral of Rev. Dr. Barnwell, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, took place at noon. His son, Dudley Barnwell, was buried at the same time. The owners of carriages and backs raised their charges to $10 per hour for the use of their vehicles and, as a consequence, all the carriages available in Jeffersonville and New Albany were brought to this city.

Some of the colored people, and the poorer of the unfortunate families, were forced to use express and transfer wagons.

All Thursday evening a storm had been gathering and the lightning and thunder were ominous. At about 8 o'clock it began to rain and the storm gradually increased in intensity. The rain changed to hail and people kept within doors. The signal service in the afternoon predicted a cyclone, but no one thought it would strike Louisville. At 8:25 the disaster came. The heavens were black as ink. There was a deep, threatening roar as the cyclone struck the southwestern portion of the city. Then the buildings were crushed like egg shells and a broad swath of devastation was the result.

An Hour of Awful Suspense.

Only a few minutes elapsed after the burst of the cyclone when the police and firemen were at work upon the ruins of Falls' City hall. It was difficult to clear the ruin of women who were found digging at the slate roof with their fingers crazed at the groans beneath each of which they thought ascended from their dying. After an hour of ceaseless labor the first victim, Mrs. Sarah Kelly, was unearthed. Her body was found sitting in an upright position, her head bruised and one arm broken She said at the first quake a mad rush was made for the entrance.

Women Trampled Under Foot.

Women were knocked down and trampled on in their mad haste to escape. Seeing the overwhelming jam at the door several remained behind. She says the last she saw of her friends was just before the floor gave way and the ceiling fell. None of those whom Mrs. Kelly said were near her could be found. The workmen were then moved from the rear of the building to the front. As soon as the roofing and the mass of brick beneath had been removed, ten women locked in each other's arms were taken from the debris.

She Died in His Arms.

Mr. James Hasson, whose wife had attended the lodge meeting, was foremost among the searchers, and the first person he drew out of the ruins was his wife, who died in his arms. He laid her by the side of the other dead and continued his search for the living. Thirty men and women were taken out dead in the next hour, but no wounds were found on their bodies, and it is believed all were suffocated. The gas pipes had been broken, causing the lights to go out and saving the ruins from fire for the time, but filling the debris with the deadly vapor. The breast of the ruins was pierced and the dead and dying taken out. One part of the building was reserved for the dead, and the wounded were taken into the stores and houses on the opposite side of the street, where physicians and priests did what they could to alleviate their sufferings.

Not a Single Building Standing.

Not a single building was left standing in the path of the storm on Main street from Seventh to Eleventh streets. Occasionally a massive iron or stone front still stood intact, while the entire structure proper had been swept away. The tobacco market, on which the city prided itself, lay in the path of the storm, and the warehouses almost to the last one are in ruins. Among those destroyed are the Kentucky, Pickett's, Ninth Street, Falls' City, Picanix, Green River, Louisville, Enterprise, Central and Planters'. The destruction of the Louisville and Ninth Street warehouses could not have been more complete.

Fire Adds to the Horror.

At 12 o'clock the opening up of a portion of the debris of Falls' City hall caused a draught to penetrate the ruins, whereupon the smoldering fire broke out with tremendous fierceness. It spread rapidly and forced the workers to desert the pile. As soon as the fire gained headway the groans of the imprisoned people became shrieks, and so great was the horror of the moment that the watchers were frantic and screamed and ran about like wild, the terrible sufferings which they were unable to alleviate driving them to despair.

Several lines of hose were soon throwing water on the flames, but it was more than an hour before the work could be proceeded with, and then it was carried on with much more difficulty than before on account of the heat. Up to 12 o'clock only thirty-five dead bodies and twenty-five wounded and dying had been taken from the wreck.

His Wife and Children were There.

At about 11:30 o'clock the room where the children were dancing was reached. Mr. Louis Simms, of 1,124 Market street, had for hours been moving about in an agony of grief in front of that portion of the wreck where this room had been, for his wife and four little children were there. When the room was reached Mrs. Simms was the first one found, and she was fatally hurt. Then within ten minutes of each other three of the Simms children were recovered. They were unconscious, and there is only a faint possibility that they will live. While the father was imploring the workers to get his other child fire broke out and work was suspended. The last man taken out alive before the flames started was John Hepden, of 2,102 West Broadway.

SCENES OF HORROR.

Pathetic Incidents in the Track of the Storm King.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 29.—One of the harrowing incidents of the disaster was the killing of the Rev. Stephen E. Barnwell, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, and his young son, Dudley. Mrs. Barnwell was so badly hurt that she may die. St. John's Episcopal church, adjoining the double house, was shattered throughout, and nothing but a mass of bricks and splintered beams is left to tell the tale. The rectory was next to this, and here the beloved rector met his awful death, side by side with his child. He was with his family reading when the death crash ended his useful life, and from his position when found must have been killed instantly. His head was horribly crushed, his chest caved in and his whole body bruised. His beautiful boy, who was evidently sitting at his father's knee, was killed by a terrible fracture of the skull and was also torn and mangled.

Fate of the Laundry Girls.

The laundry girls of the Louisville hotel who were killed, roomed on Main street, next to the hotel. As the storm came without warning, those confined had no time to escape. The walls fell with a crash and the screams of the girls could be plainly heard above the roar of the storm and the falling debris. Mary Crowe and Mary Farrali escaped and the rest were buried beneath the ruins. Officers John Tully and Joe Baldwin heard the piteous appeals of a woman's voice beneath the ruins. Both set to work and in a short time the body of a man was discovered, who proved to be Hon. T. Henry Mason, of Hawesville. The foot and hand of another were also uncovered.

Rescued, Revolver in Hand.

A man's voice was heard in a corner and a light showed the scarred face of Virgil Wright. He was penned in with a mass of bricks and mortar. In his hand he held a pistol, with which he was trying to end his sufferings. His arm was so badly bruised, however, that he was unable to pull the trigger, and he was rescued quite badly wounded, but was able to walk.

ODDITIES OF THE CYCLONE.

Miraculous Stories from Louisville—Revised List of the Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 2.—There are hundreds of the most interesting and miraculous incidents connected with the tornado, showing the queerest sort of freaks of the wind. A block of iron casting weighing over 150 pounds was blown into the second story of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southern railway building near the Union depot. Nobody knows where it came from, and the nearest building from which it could have come is nearly 100 yards away. Great sheets of iron roofing were dropped upon Dr. Barry's farm, near Turner's Station, forty miles from the city, on the Short line. In the ruins of a house on West Main street a clock was found clinging to the wall. It was a large office clock, but no one in the vicinity had ever seen it before and no one knows where it came from. It was badly broken, but the hands still pointed to 8:30 p. m. A large slab of marble was found in a residence on Madison street which was never there before. It will weigh over 100 pounds.

At Baird's drug store—on Market, above Ninth—two bird cages with the birds were blown in through the skylight. The cages were not injured and the birds are as full of song as ever. When the building occupied by Brand & Bethel, the tobacco men, on Green street, went to pieces a portion of the frame work dropped through the roof of a little cottage just east of the factory. It consisted of a heavy timber, to which were mortised four upright pieces of timber. When this came through the cottage the family were sitting around the table in the dining room, and the four uprights simply pinned them in, but did not hurt them in the least. It was one of the most wonderful escapes yet heard of.

Below will be found a list of the seventy-seven dead according to the count of the coroner:

George Schmidt, William Stephens, Chris. Miller, William Hoey, Henry Lengo, Rudolph Saenger, John Riehl, Charles Schaefer, John Kelsall, Gustav Kutzleb, Gustav Kutzleb, Jr., Walter Gaddy (colored), Maggie Gaddy (colored), Robert Gaddy (colored), James Smith, Henry King, Carrie Baker, Annie Stautte, Mrs Horan, Genevieve Simms, Louis Simms Jr., Peter Fuller, Thomas J. Puff, S. E. Barnwell, Dudley Barnwell, Frank Paul, Jr., Fritz Depp, Alexander McKee, Ada Heins (colored), Bridget Crow, R. Moore, Chance Lusher, Mary Pius, Walter Davis (colored), Jack Barmann, William Clifford, George W. Foster, Rudolph Lipps, Ed Moran, Moses Lazarus, Maggie McGonnias, Bud Sullivan, John Emerick, Emerick infant, J. B. Schildt, William Deppner, Charles Siebert, Theodore Engelmeier, A. Steghing, Elmer E. Barnes, John G Hamilton, Annie Niles, J. Fiesoner, J. M. Stephins, Mary McLaughlin, Bridget Kelly, Sallie Bishop, William H. Good, R. F. Randolph, Mary Ryan, Parker Cornell, Maggie Campbell, Mary McGinty, John Renoat, Charles Jenks, Dietrick Denker, Engelbeist Scheil, John Raidy, Emma Hopstatter, F. Petty, Thaddeus Mason, William Geissel, William Hebb, Mrs. Hasson, Mrs. Belle Lelof, Mrs. Peterson.

This is not claimed as an entirely accurate or complete list, but it is nearer the exact truth than any published yet.

Emperor William's Compromise Scheme.

BERLIN, April 2.—It is stated that Emperor William is preparing a scheme for a peaceful compromise of the existing differences between Germany and France, and will submit the terms to the French government at an early day. The plan is said to be so entirely equitable that its tender by the more aggressive of the two powers cannot fail of cordial acceptance by the other, though it may possibly be subjected to slight modifications.

JERSEY BALLOT REFORM.

The New Bill Introduced in the State Senate.

TRENTON, April 1.—The ballot reform committee introduced their bill in the senate last night. It takes the opposite of the Australian system. The bill provides for an absolutely secret ballot with no marking of the tickets. There are separate tickets for each party. The voter enters the booth and is handed one of the ballots of each political party, printed at public expense, and shuts himself in, 100 feet from any other person. Ballots are distributed ten days ahead of election, but none of these can be used in the booths. Registration all over the state is provided.

A state board appoints county boards of registration, composed of four men appointed by the governor, strictly non-partisan. The chairman of the state committee designates the men from their respective parties. These boards canvass the counties and find the legal voters, as census enumerators get the population. The registry boards are to be appointed for the first time within sixty days after the passage of the committee's bill. The registration list has to be posted all over the county. The committee did not unanimously approve the report.

Brief Mention of Matters Which Everybody Should Know About—A Week's Accidents and Crimes Accurately and Concisely Chronicled.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—The Very Rev. Nicholas Cantwell, vicar general of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, was yesterday invested with his robes of rank as a monsignor of the first rank or domestic prelate of the pope's household, to which dignity he was recently raised by Pope Leo XIII. The services were conducted at the church of St. Philip de Neri, and the sacred edifice was crowded with priests and devotees of the church.

The Nun's Flight Was Fatal.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 27.—Sister Leo, who escaped from the Villa Maria convent and was subsequently recaptured, died yesterday of paralysis of the heart. It appears that Sister Leo came to the convent six months ago from the parish of the Church of the Gesu, Philadelphia, and took the white veil. She has since then been one of the most devoted of the order. A week ago she was stricken with the grip, and a day or so later her brain, it is said, became affected. It was while laboring under a hallucination that she leaped from the window and attempted to escape. The physicians say her death was caused by exposure.

Not Dead, but Rich.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—Mrs. James McCauley, who has been living in abject poverty for a number of years at No. 209 Chester street, this city, has recently learned that her husband, whom she supposed was dead, is a wealthy miner at Burke, Shoshone county, Idaho. His fortune is estimated at $300,000. McCauley has been communicated with, and his wife expects to soon join him in his western home.

Seizing the Live Stock.

MAHANOY PLANE, Pa., March 27.—The employes of the Laurel Ridge colliery, an individual mine operated by Simmons H. Barrett, of Philadelphia, are seizing the live stock to satisfy unpaid claims for labor. Owing to the depression in the coal trade the colliery has been idle several weeks and the miners have not received the wages due them. It is feared there will be trouble.

A Freight Wreck in Flames.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 27.—A freight wreck occurred at Lilly's Station, a few miles west of here, late last night, caused by a rear end collision. The wreck took fire and set fire to two hotels and a dwelling house. There is no fire engine there, and the only defense against the flames was a bucket line from the creek near by. The engineer of engine 885 was slightly hur

FRIDAY, APRIL 4th, 1890.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our regular correspondent.]

Washington, D. C. Mar 31, 1890.

Boss Quay has returned, and the very first thing he did was to order the Senators of his party to confirm the nominations of the Florida officials that the protests and charges of the Florida Senators have had "hung up" for some time, and the result was the liviest secret session of the Senate for many a day. The democratic Senators did not mince words in attacking the men that Quay was cracking his whip to have confirmed, and the Senate adjourned without confirming them but of course Mr. Quay will see to it that they are confirmed this week.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Democratic clubs held here Saturday, it was determined to take an active part in the coming campaign notwithstanding the gentle hint given by certain leading democrats that no help was needed from the clubs. Mr. Carlisle is a believer in the good accomplished by clubs and so is Mr. Cleveland, and in fact the majority of good democrats. The headquarters of the executive committee will in future be in this city instead of New York.

The Commissioner of Pensions estimates that it will take $40,000,000 a year to meet the service pension bill proposed by the House committee on Invalid Pensions.

The woman suffrage folks are jubilant over the passage by the house of the bill to admit Wyoming as a State, with a constitution providing for women suffrage. The democrats solidly opposed the bill and they had the assistance of one solitary republican.

The House, after making the date for holding the World's Fair, from April to November 1893 passed the bill, and it is now before the special Senate committee. Senator Daniel has offered an amendment providing for 1892, on the occasion of the unveiling of the proposed monument to Columbus.

Representative Coney, who has just returned from Ohio, says "I don't think the re-listricting of State assures the democrats as much as some count on. The districts are shaped to give not fifteen, but eight out of that fifteen have democratic majorities of less than 1,500 which is rather a narrow margin in Ohio politics".

After a grand flourish of trumpets and the adoption of enough amendments to kill a dozen bills, the Senate referred Senator Sherman's alleged anti-trust bill to the Judiciary Committee with instructions to report it back in twenty days. It would not have hurt the trusts in any way if it had been adopted just as Mr Sherman introduced it, and it is very certain that it will be equally as harmless when it is reported from the Judiciary committee.

Senator Morgan has introduced a bill, which if there was any possibility of its ever becoming a law would in reality curb the rapidly growing power of the trusts in this country, but that is just what the republican millionaires of the Senate do not want.

Next Saturday we shall see whether the powers that be really want to enforce the civil service law. Two officials of the Virginia republican club are to be tried on that day for soliciting campaign contributions from office holders in violation of that law. There is no doubt of the men, and everybody is anxious to see whether they are to be punished or acquitted. Its dollars to brass buttons that nothing will be done with them.

Representatives Bland, of Missouri, and Williams, of Illinois, in a strong minority report against the Windom silver bill say that in their opinion the bill is very adroitly drawn to suspend silver coinage, to totally demonetize this metal and to permanently establish the single standard of gold payments.

The Election committee of the House have decided to unseat two more democrats—Wise, of Virginia and Turpin of Alabama.

Hearings have been going on before the republicans of the House Ways and Means committee just as vigorously during the last few days as when the tariff bill was first begun. The republicans have promised to lay the new bill before the whole committee to morrow, and if they do, it will soon get before the House, but it isn't safe to count on anything about this bill owing to the kickers in the party.

It is now regarded as a certainty that Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson will leave the Government service this spring. This resignation is said to be now in the hands of Mr. Wanamaker, and was handed in because of a hint from Mr. Harrison that it would be acceptable to him.

It is rumored that Mr. Blaine intends to have a proposition made to the Pan-American Congress for absolute reciprocity of trade with South and Central America countries.

Happy Meeting of Two Friends.

John M. Allen, of Carlottie, N. Y., said to his friend, "Parsons, I am about dead with the gravel, and cannot find help." Mr. Parsons indused Mr. Allen to give Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy of Rondout, N. Y., a trial. Weeks went by and the friends met. Mr. Allen said, "Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has saved my life. It is a cure for gravel—and the only cure."

Aftermath and Rakings.

MR. EDITOR:

Judging from letters I get, the farmers are eager to learn the causes and the remedy for the political corruption and depression in prices of farm products; but I would like to see more of that fire in their eyes that suggests the attacking column at the front, rather than a prayer meeting at the rear, for the success of the battle.

While I mention the different causes for the fact of general agricultural depression, the tariff, demonetization of of silver over production, under consumption, discriminating freight charges, emergency rates of railroads, unfair and unequal taxation, pools, trusts and syndicates to keep down the prices of farm produce and to keep up the price of what the farmer purchases, stock, grain and provision gambling I do not want the farmer, mahanic or the laboring man to think that some body else than himself is to blame for his misfortunes, or that I will be his guide or Moses to lead him out of the wilderness. I leave that to those who are in or seeking office. I am only trying to suggest some wise or other wise remedy and it may be that all the causes enumerated do not contribute as much to giving fair play and fair pay to the farmers as do the differences between good or poor stock, soil or seed, industry or laziness, frugality and retrenchment or the sensuality political corruption, and the godless luxury of the people.

Those who have nothing to sell, care nothing about the price, while those who have, cry loudest, but do not economize when they have plenty. I saw an old farmer the other day carrying a crowbar for a cane, handy to pry out a stone, and could be sold for old iron when done with. No hard times with him.

I believe the farmers can remedy the political corruption by not electing to office ignorant dishonest, political demagogues on wheels, or legislative misfits, who are always on the lookout for danger signals on their way to office, who when they reach it, can only give us a devil's receipt for the peace and well doing of the common weal.

The farmers of intelligence and character must close up, pick out competent honest man for office, men who have principles, which are in their blood and brain as well as on their lips—men who dare to do what is right, not those who have plenty of back bone to electioneer with, but no brain bone, to run their office properly, or vote only in interest of people not those selfishness, property and power are signs not of their merits but of their sins. A leopard can not charge his spots on being elected to office. Neither should they select for office one who has plowed for many many years in an official furrow and sunk himself so deep in the bowels of the office holding earth that he thinks the sloping sides of his ditch the boundary of the political universe; whose methods of running an office, or legislation, is more like the buzz caused by a bear robbing a swarm of bees of its honey, than like the hum of the bees while gathering supplies for their winter stores.

I have just heard some very high tariff men agree that a high tariff and a home market is what is needed. We have high tariff home markets in this county now, but they are supplied with manufactures of all kinds from the East, grain and flour from the West, lumber and Canadian products from the North and garden truck from the South, and is not that one reason why our Columbia Co. products bring so little money?

If American products were manufactured by using the best machinery and skill, and giving our leading industries free raw material with all tariff or taxes taken off the necessaries of life, we could hold our own markets and the markets of the world, and give honest protection to farmers, wage labor and capital.

Yesterday I saw a well to do farmer with a fine four horse team, heavily loaded, stuck in the mud at the foot of a hill. Soon a poor man came along with a yoke of oxen, also heavily loaded, and they stuck too. After some chaffing the men doubled teams and soon had both loads up the hill. That illustrates my idea of co-operation of labor and capital.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

Heartburn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My brother, who is a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

BRIGGS' HEADACHE - TROCHES

—FOR—

SICK HEADACHE

—IN ITS—

Nervous, Bilious, or Congestive Forms.

This Remedy is the prescription of one of the leading physicians of Paris, France, and was used by him with unparalleled success for over thirty years, it was first given to the public as a proprietary medicine in 1878 since which time it has found its way into almost every county on the face of the globe, and become a favorite remedy with thousands of the leading physicians. Medical societies have discussed its marvelous success at their annual conventions, and after their official chemists have analyzed it and found that it contained no opiates, bromides or other harmful ingredients placed it among their standard remedies.

Pianos-Organs.

The improved method of fastening strings of pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

Owing to the light coal traffic, the D. L. and W. Railroad company has suspended 100 trainmen. Several conductors went back to their old occupation of breaking, and a number of engineers are firing. It is said that the company's payments this month for February wages will be $100,000 less than was paid out last month,

It is said that the township auditors of Benton have allowed as part of the township expenses, the costs made by the application for the incorporation of the village of Benton into a borough at last court. If such is the case it is probable an appeal will be taken.

To Democrats.

Remember the meeting this (Friday) evening in Dentler's Hall for the purpose of organizing a permanent democratic club Let all who can, attend this meeting as it is the purpose to complete the organization this evening and elect officers of the club.

There are three prisoners in the Columbia county jail at present, Amos Appleman is awaiting the result of an application for a new trial; John Morris is charged with stabbing a man named John Petrol at Centralia, and Michael Monahan is committed for breaking in a door at Centralia.

A Milk Pipe Line.

The Scientific American is responsible for the statement that the milk pipe line to New York is not a joke but a sober fact. It says that a company with $500 000 has been formed, and that a cylindrical conduit will be built from Middletown to New York. Cylindrical cans holding as much as an ordinary milk can will be forced through by means of water. The cans, it claims, can be propelled 100 miles an hour at a profit of 1 cent a gallon.

The positions at the Normal School that will be made vacant by the resignations of the Principal and Steward have not yet been filled. There are a large number of applicants for each place, and the trustees are exerting every effort to secure the best men. It is possible that a decision will be reached next week Thursday.

William Fleckenstine of Orangeville has purchased a lot from the Agricultural Society, and is erecting buildings to be used for livery and delivering purposes. Mr. Fleckenstine owned the Orangeville stage line until its discontinuance, and kept a livery stable at Orangeville for several years. He is a brother-in-law of Prothonotary Snyder, and a reliable man. He has moved into W. M. Lemon's property in Scott town.

East Benton.

Rev. S. P. Boone was assigned to the Benton charge for the fifth time.

Rough spring weather.

Rev. D. M. Kinter spent a few evenings and Lord's day preaching in Cambra. Several baptised Sunday afternoon.

About 150 people went to Danville last Friday night to attend the play of Little Lord Fauntleroy at the Opera House. A special train was run on the P. & R. and all who went were well pleased. But there have been many plays equally as good in the Bloomsburg Opera House that have been attended by fewer people than went from here to Danville.

EASTER SERVICES.

The Easter services in the Lutheran church of Bloomsburg will be of unusual interest. Every evening during Passion week services are being held in the church, Friday evening is Preparatory services, Sunday morning, Holy Communion with Confirmation, Baptism and reception of new members. Flowers will cover the altar in great profusion. The Sunday School services at 9 o'clock will be led with an orchestra of six instruments.

In the evening the Children's Easter Programme: Organ Voluntary, R. H. Ringler; Anthem, "The love of Christ," Choir; Responses, congregation; Prayer, Pastor; Calvary, Recitation song, Lillian Potter; The Glad Eastertide, Sunday School; Christ is Risen, School; Lilies for the New Born King, Louis Buckalew; What I like best, four young Misses; Address, Pastor; Floral Cross, 20 girls and boys; Offerings, church extension; Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

Benediction.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL.

At 6:30 o'clock on Sunday morning next services will be held at St. Paul's P. E. Church. The music will be rendered by a mixed choir of about twenty voices, and the services will be choral except the Psalter which will be read. Geo. E. Elwell will preside at the organ, and the hymns will be led by the organ accompanied by violin, flute, clarionette and cornet, played respectively by Messrs. Cohen, R. Drinker, Eshleman and Searles. The program will include a Gloria Patri and a hymn composed especially for the occasion.

At 10:30 o'clock the Holy Communion will be administered, and at 7 o'clock in the evening the Sunday School will hold its Easter Festival.

REFORMED CHURCH.

Early services will be held at 6 o'clock. At 10.30 regular services with the Holy Communion. In the evening a Children's service will be given. The church will be handsomely decorated with flowers.

ROMAN CATHOLIC.

At St. Columba's R. C. Church the services will be as follows: High Mass at 9 a. m. with sermon, children's services at 1:30 p. m., Vesper and Benediction at 7 p. m. During Holy Week daily services have been held. Father McCann on Thursday attended a service at Harrisburg, being the Consecration of the Oils, by the Bishop. Good Friday services commemorative of the Passion will be held at 7. p. m. Beginning at 7:30 o'clock on Saturday morning the Blessing of the Paschal Candle, Easter Water and Paschal Mass will take place lasting about three hours. On Easter the sombre hues of the altar will give place to flowers and bright decorations.

In order to reduce stock, for the next 30 days I am offering special inducements to cash purchasers from my large stock of boots and shoes.

Terrible Accident.

Wesley Derr, aged about 35 years, and well known throughout the country as an upright and respectable citizen met with a most horrible accident on Tuesday afternoon of last week near White Hall. His occupation is that of a stone and stump blaster. In blasting he used dynamite.

A charge had just been placed under a large stump on the farm of John Moser, and Derr, approached to light the fuse, but before doing so, stepped around the dangerous spot a few times, when suddenly he discovered that in some unaccountable manner the fuse had become ignited and was burning within a few inches of the cap. A minute's time and he would be blown to atoms. This Mr. Derr realized, and he immediately began stamping the treacherous, smoking fuse in the ground. In his excitement the unfortunate man forgot about the cap and he accidently struck the latter with his heavy boot. The shock thus occasioned caused the dynamite to explode, and the result was a horrible one.

MR DERR'S MANGLED BODY.

The unfortunate man was blown a distance of about twenty feet, and when the other workmen reached the spot where he lay a horrible spectacle presented itself. Derr's right leg had been blown off below the knee, while his right cheek and eye were literally blown away. It was indeed sickening sight. and the men could scarce find courage to lift the poor unfortunate from the ground. A thorough search for the detached limb only revealed portions of that member, and had the force of the charge but struck a foot higher Derr's body would doubtless have been blown to atoms. As it was he still lived, and he was carried to the nearest farm house while a messenger was immediately dispatched for surgeons. In a very short time Drs. Reed. Swisher and McHenry were on hand and attended the man's injuries. The physicians state that he has one chance out of ten to recover.—Danville Intelligencer.

"Husband, I Want You to Try It."

I had suffered for years with a complaint the physicians called Gravel, and they had given up the attempt to help me. My wife heard of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., and spoke as above. To please her I got a bottle. Used that and two or three more, and presently the trouble vanished never to return.—Washington Monroe, Catskill, N. Y. 4-4 4t.

Through the kindness of Mr. H. S. Reay we have received a copy of the "Louisville Times" of Friday, March 28, the day after the terrible tornado that swept over that city destroying many lives and much property. Mr. Reay and his son were there at the time, and we are glad to know of their escape from injury. In looking over the paper we find an account of the death of Rev. Stephen E. Barnwell, rector of St. John's P. E. Church. He was caught in the ruins of his house and he and his little son were crushed, and then burned. Mr. Barnwell was in college with the writer, and it makes such terrible disasters seem nearer home when one reads familiar names among the list of victims. Mr. Barnwell was a nephew of Bishop Elliott of the Episcopal Church, and a cousin of Prof. S. C. Thompson who was a member of the faculty of the Normal School in 1877-8.

At a recent meeting of the Trustees of the Normal School the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, Dr. D. J. Waller Jr., having been appointed to and having assumed the State Superintendency of Public Instruction, has tendered to the Board of Trustees of the Bloomsburg State Normal School and Literary Institute, his resignation as Principal which has been accepted, and the trustees desire to make acknowledgment of their appreciation of his past service and their wish for his future welfare, therefore,

Resolved, That in assenting to Dr. Waller's severance of the relation of Principal we do so with regret, recognizing that in that step the Normal School loses an honorable, energetic and faithful principal, a distinguished and successful educator and a wise and just disciplinarian the Faculty an efficient and respected head and the trustees an active and reliable co-operator in the work of this institution. And further

Resolved, That while we are conscious of our loss we nevertheless congratulate Dr. Waller upon his deserved promotion to a higher field of labor, and earnestly wish for him an abundant success therein, and that he may find the new duties which he has taken upon himself pleasing to his taste and gratifying as to the results obtained. And further

Resolved, That these resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Board and that a copy of the same with the signatures of the President and Secretary and the seal of the corporation duly attached be presented to Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr.

To the County Commissioners.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN:

DEAR SIRS:—We were always under the impression that public officials were the peoples' servants not their masters. But alas! How mistaken were we! What a "spectacle" the commissioners cut in last week's COLUMBIAN; replied to our articles, but neither admitted or denied anything. Gracious, how the tax-payers were enlightened. If the commissioners expect to conquer by bluffs they mistake their man. If we made any misrepresentations, why not call the public attention to the facts? If the truth was told, why such a storm of indignation? "Such trash and ignorance!" Yes verily; if such it was, we got it from the county statement. If you please, Cambra is in Luzerne county, but John C. Wenner is not. "But our time had been employed by matters we considered of more importance," judging from the amount the county pays for your services your time must be pretty well employed—$1601.36 for a year's services including attendance at road views, and yet no time to equalize values, because there are "more important matters," "Disgusted," How can the people but become disgusted with such officials: "He must be off &c. &c. is the general expression"—of the general commissioners, but private letters from different parts of the county on this subject since the publication of these articles express a different opinion from those of the general commissioners. The COLUMBIAN has always defended the right and is as competent to judge what is for the edification of an intelligent public as the commissioners who attempt to dictate what would be more acceptable and beneficial matter to the readers of your valuable paper.

With your permission we will give the commissioners and the public a bit of information. which if true, we hope the commissioners will admit like reasonable men, and if not true, deny it, and enlighten the public mind on the subject. In the year 1882 the number of acres of seated land in Benton township was 11,699, valued at $141,856, or $12,12½ per acre. Unseated land 118 acres, valued at $570 The number of acres of seated land in Fishingcreek was 15622, valued at $181,764, or $11.63½ per acre. Unseated land 2940 acres. valued at $5172. The number of acres of seated land in Sugarloaf was 12,185, valued at $59,388, or $4.88 per acre. Unseated 2231 acres, valued at $4,506. It is universally admitted that Fishingcreek is a better township all through than Benton, yet in 1882 it was assessed 49 cents per acre higher than Fishingcreek and $7.24 higher than Sugarloaf. Subsequently valuations doubled and the difference in valuation per acre also doubled. These three townships are adjoining townships and Fishingcreek is in the lead so far as relates to valuations, in which Benton was unjustly placed. We do not contend that any of the townships are too low, but that Benton is pre-eminently too high. During the year 1889 the aggregate valuation of Benton, including personal property was $359,332, or $30.70 per acre. Fishingcreek's aggregate valuation $465,605, or $29,80 per acre, including valuation of unseated land. Sugarloaf's aggregate valuation $179,185, or $14 70 per acre, including valuation of unseated land. Including the valuation of unseated land Benton is assessed 90 cts. per acre higher than Fishingcreek, and $16 per acre higher than Sugarloaf. Deducting the valuation of unseated land from Fishingcreek, Benton is assessed from $1.50 to 1.80 per acre on seated land higher than Fishingcreek and from $17 to $19 higher than Sugarloaf.

We can furnish you with all the testimony that you desire, that there are 1000 acres of seated land in Benton township that are no more valuable than the same number of acres of unseated land. All we ask is equal rights. Now let the commissioners put the above in their pipes and smoke it and rave and foam to their heart's content. Before another Board of Commissioners get through with a term of county finances Benton township will have secured her equal rights in equal taxation and don't you forget it.

Pennsy's New Extension.

A BRANCH ROAD TO BE BUILT BETWEEN WILKES-BARRE AND PLYMOUTH.

The Pennsylvania railroad is prepairing to open a branch into Plymouth. It will start at Nanticoke, where it will leave the main track of the North and West branch of the Pennsylvanna and cross the river on the bridge already there for the use of coal trains. The line will then run up the West side of the river through Avondale into Plymouth.

The line was surveyed and the ground purchased some time ago, and preparations are now making for laying the track. A long row of company houses in the lower end of Plymouth are being torn down to make room for the tracks which will pass directly over their site.

It is reported that the branch is to be pushed forward through Edwardsvill, Kingston and Wyoming to West Pittson, and from there possibly to Scranton.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night.

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists' Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Stealing Steel Plans.

DANVILLE, March 31. There has been trouble for some time between Johnstown people and the North Branch Steel Company of this place over the manufacture of an alleged steel rail, and for some time litigation has been kept up. Parties have been sent here disguised as workmen, and various attempts made to discover the exact method of manufacture, but so far without success.

This morning, at 2:30 o'clock, four men entered the drafting room at the works, and opening the safe, took from it drawings and plates of rolls used in the making of rails. When they attempted to escape they ran into the arms of three detectives, who had posted themselves in regard to this attempt, and were waiting to bag their game. Three were arrested and placed in jail. The fourth escaped, but it is said he was drawing the others into this clever trap.

The burglars gave the names of Robert S. Murphy, Henry Shea and E. B Enterstoll and registered at the hotel as from Philedelphia, but in telegraphing for money for bail they sent to Johnstown.

On Monday the men were brought to Bloomsburg and had a hearing before Judge Ikeler who held them in $1000 each. Messrs Scarlet and Hinckley appeared against the prisoners.

The Laws of Subscription.

Newspaper subscribers are probably ignorant of the laws protecting the publishers, and what follows will no doubt be news to many people in some respects. When it is taken into consideration that the individual who takes a paper gets it for a mere song, the wonder is that any should neglect to pay for it, or not wanting it, should fail to notify the home office of that fact. As will be seen by a careful perusal of the decisions of the United States Court on the subject, as recently compiled by Dr. Tuckerman Editor of the Workman, at Cleveland, much trouble may be avoided and money saved. Here are the decisions:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

6. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the post-office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4 If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is a prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with the payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the post-master to mark it "refused," and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

If You Feel

Dull and languid, have a poor appetite, and there is a lack of assimilation of food, it is an indication that the system is weakened and rendered liable to contract serious disease. The blood needs purifying, and the general system requires a building up by the best of all Spring tonics—Brown's Sarsaparilla.

EPPING, N. H., May 6th, 1889.

Brown's Sarsaparilla is a good medicine. I know this as it has been in the house of my folks, and it is pronounced by them to be the best of all the Sarsaparillas for the blood, and will work wonders after others have failed, and were I in need of any medicine for the blood I would take that in preference to all others for the blood, kidneys, liver and stomach.

Dull and Languid

In the latter part of the winter and spring of 1888, I felt—I don't know how; no life; no ambition; no strength; drowsy; no appetite worth naming, and no relish for what little I did eat. I bought a bottle of Brown's Sarsaparilla. It seemed to do me good until nearly gone, when a tremendous itching of my feet and legs commenced; I continued till I had used six bottles; my appetite returned, my food tasted natural, and I, though now 63 years of age, feel as well and lively as I have for twenty years. I cannot speak too highly of Brown's Sarsaparilla.

Yours truly,
BENJAMIN HILL,
York Corner, Me.

Build Up the System with

A very strong case showing what Brown's Sarsaparilla will do for the children is that of the little daughter of Don A. H. Powers, Esq., of Houlton, Maine, brother of ex-Congressman Powers, and one of the leading lawyers of Aroostook county. His little five year old girl had been in delicate health, pale and with little appetite, for some time. Mr. Powers had never tried any patent medicines, and had little faith in them, but so numerous and strong were the words of commendation that came to him from neighbors and through the press, that he was induced to try a bottle of Brown's Sarsaparilla for the little one. This was used according to directions, and a second one purchased. What was the result? Mr. Powers says the variable appetite gave way to a natural and hearty desire for food, increased vigor and vivacity were noticeable, glowing cheeks and bright eyes took the place of the pallid face and sallow look, and the hearts of the parents were gladdened beyond expression by the wonderful change which had taken place in their darling.

Annie B. Blodgett of Lisbon, N. H., writes: My husband and my niece have both taken Brown's Sarsaparilla by my advice, and we would not be without a bottle of it in the house. It has relieved me of many pains which I have suffered from for years. I have great faith in your medicine and wish I could commend it personally to all who are suffering from the many complaints of women caused by poor blood.

TO CHANGE DIRT ROAD TO MACADAM

Shall Convict Labor Be Employed at Road Making?

The modern system of making roads is a compound of two systems, used in England in the early part of the century by Telford and Macadam respectively.

MACADAM.

Telford was an engineer and road maker. The latter undoubtedly originated the principle of using small fragments of stone for roadways. Telford insisted upon a stone foundation composed of irregular stone from six to eight inches in size as base, to prevent the smaller stone from being pushed into the ground in soft places, and to insure good drainage. Macadam denied the usefulness of the foundation, and engineers are yet divided on the question.

Macadam's rule for the size of the fragments, termed road metal, was six ounces in weight. A cube of one and one-half inches of compact limestone weighs about six ounces.

Roadways with the macadam top and with or without the Telford base may be constructed from a common dirt road. The method for such work is described in a recent article in The Philadelphia Record. A variety of macadam roads are now under way in the vicinity of Philadelphia, and this article evidently treats the matter from a practical point of view:

"In building a macadamized road from a common dirt road it is essential that the surface should be scraped or excavated in order to give a good foundation for the layer of broken stone. The earth is then thoroughly rolled, in order to compact it and prevent the broken stone from sinking too deeply in the soft earth. If the Telford foundation is used the stones, which are from six to eight inches in size, are set in position on the rolled earth and covered with a six-inch layer of macadam metal, broken so as to pass through a two and one-half inch ring. This is then rolled with a steam roller, the pattern most commonly used being a 15-ton machine, costing $5,000, though 20-ton and 30-ton machines are in use.

TELFORD.

"When it is found that the metal will not yield to the roller the bed is ready for another layer of stone, which should be six inches deep in the center, sloping to the sides, and again compactly rolled. A top dressing of fine broken stone, usually the screenings from a crusher, and not exceeding three-quarters of an inch in largest dimensions, is spread over the road to a depth of two inches. A steam roller will compact these screenings to a smooth surface and the road is ready for travel. The rolling is facilitated and greater compactness secured if the stone is thoroughly sprinkled. Unless a great volume of traffic is to pass over the road it is not necessary to have the metal a foot thick, a depth of eight inches being sufficient for ordinary travel."

In using the macadam on a common dirt road, without the Telford foundation, the metal is placed upon the hard rolled surface in a uniform layer not exceeding 6 inches in depth. This layer is compactly rolled, and then another layer of metal is spread on and treated in the same way, and so on until the roadway is completed according to The Record's description of the Telford road.

The great expense of macadam roads is an obstacle to their general adoption. A method for reducing the expense is suggested by The New York Journal of Commerce in an editorial given below:

"It would pay everywhere to construct the best macadamized roads, and the work should be undertaken by the state where long thoroughfares are required. We have often suggested that it need cost very little if the convicts and criminals who cannot be given their liberty because of their unrestrained depravity were employed at the task. This would effect a double object. It would build splendid roads at small cost throughout the length and breadth of the land, and it would tend to restrain crime. It is little hardship to the burglar or the highwayman to keep him in a prison where he is well fed and clothed and better cared for on the whole than the average of honest laborers who support themselves. If he was set to breaking stone and road building in a chain gang, and made to eat his bread in the sweat of his face, under a burning July sun or in the chill of winter, he would not think that conviction of crime was such a light matter."

Road Mending in France.

A writer in Harper's Weekly recently gave the following description of mending a national road in France: "With the beginning of October and the rainy season an inspector comes out—though for that matter he is almost always traveling up and down—followed by a large gang of men, one or more steam rollers, which, if the district is far from a town, pull after them gypsy vans in which the men live. The properly broken stone is then spread evenly over the road, the interstices are filled up with smaller stones and pebbles, the refuse from the larger stuff; over this is spread a layer of chalky or clayey earth, which had been carted and heaped there in neat piles during the summer; what we would call mush mollyis made out of the whole mass with water from the gutter, which the engine of the roller pumps through a hose; the steam roller next parades up and down over the surface for a day or so, boards and guards are put up to keep the passers by from driving on the grass, and by the middle of winter the whole surface is perfect; so perfect is it that in a ride through the Vosges in the early spring, although there were high snow banks on both sides, the road having been cleared, and although frost was coming up out of the ground, it was comparatively easy to ride on a light bicycle instead of being obliged to pull the machine through a sea of mud."

Smiling In Death.

A DEAD GIRL'S CHEEKS KEPT ROSY FOR THREE WEEKS AT SHAMOKIN.

There was a quiet funeral in Northumberland last Tuesday week which the closing scene in a remarkable case that had excited that town for some time. The corpse was that of Miss Jennie Boust, the only daughter of Charles Boust, a prominent storekeeper of Northumberland, who died on February 25. The young woman was twenty-three years old, and until five years ago was one of the belles of the place. Her mind became unbalanced, and three months ago she was sent to the insane asylum at Danville. After a month's stay there she was taken home and her bed placed in the parlor where she could play the piano, of which she was passionately fond.

The night of her death Miss Boust was attacted with an ungovernable frenzy, and would have nothing to do with anyone. At times she would rush to the piano and play beautiful and weird refrains, and then break the furniture. It is said that she smashed the upright grand piano. At last the household heard no more noise from the parlor, and supposing Jessie had retired, went to sleep. The following morning at a late hour Mrs. Boust carried in breakfast for her daughter. The room was quiet, and on the bed lay Jessie. Her features bore a look of agony and were horribly distorted. She was dead. The family doctor gave congestion of the brain as the cause of death. When the undertaker appeared an hour later the girl's face was fairly black. He injected one and a half gallons of embalming fluid into the veins.

Ten hours passed and the grief-stricken mother entered the parlor. She looked at the corpse's face and almost sank to the floor in a faint. The dead girl looked as though she had come to life. The distorted expression had disappeared, and the cheeks were a rosy red. The mother left the room shrieking with joy, exclaiming that Jessie was in a trance. Dr. Sheetz was summoned, together with the undertaker; but both assured the family that life was extinct.

The matter was kept quiet, and on the third day the house was crowded with relatives and friends to attend the funeral. The minister preached a sermon, and then the entire assemblage was notified that no funeral would take place. They left the house mystified. The mother had forbidden the interment, thinking her daughter yet alive. Days came and went, and the remains still lay in the parlor. Now and then friends came to view them. No signs of decomposition were visible and a more lifelike corpse was not conceivable.

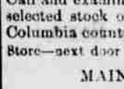
Things went on this way until Tuesday, when Undertaker Bright, struck with the beauty of the day and thinking it would be most fitting for Miss Boust's funeral, persuaded the mother to let the interment be made. The pall-bearers were again summoned, and a quiet funeral procession wended its way to the northern part of the town. No minister was present, and the young woman, still looking as though in life, was silently laid in her last resting-place.

TALK IS CHEAP,

and the press teems with advertisements of sarsaparillas, and other fiver, blood and lung remedies, but there is one medicine, and only one, the claims for which, as a cure for all lingering diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Biliousness, or from impure blood, are backed up by a positive guarantee! If it don't do just as represented in every case, the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

This peculiar medicine sells beyond all others throughout the civilized world. And why should it not? "Talk is cheap," but when it's backed up by a positive guarantee, by a house of long established reputation, for honesty, integrity and sound financial standing, then words mean business. And that's just what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., mean in guaranteeing their Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery checks the frightful inroads of Scrofula and, if taken in time, arrests the march of Consumption of the Lungs, which is a Lung-scrofula, purifies and enriches the blood, thereby curing all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Ulcers, Sores, Swellings, and kindred ailments.



$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head, by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing and healing properties, it cures the worst cases, no matter of how long standing. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

A Deer In Williamsport.

MEN AND DOGS CHASE THE ANIMAL THROUGH THE STREETS AND CAPTURE IT.

A wild deer was caught in the streets of Williamspoet on Thursday evening March 23. The animal had probably been driven by dogs, and, becoming puzzled, dashed down the hill-side and entered the city by way of the cemetery. The novel scene of a deer bounding along the street created a sensation and a large force of men and dogs was soon in pursuit.

The frightened deer dashed hither and thither, but was headed off at every point until it finally become bewildered and almost exhausted. It was chased into a lot, surrounded by men and boys and captured by means of a lasso. It has been many years since one of these animals has been within sight of that city.

A timely article, and one that gives a good deal of desired information, is "Stanley's Emin Pasha Expedition" in Lippincott's for April. A concise biographical account of Emin Pasha is given, and also the reason of Stanley's Expedition, with other valuable information. There has been so much talk about Emin Pasha and Stanley's Expedition, and so much ignorance shown that this article from one who evidently knows his subject is refreshing and instructive.

A Valuable lot of old Choice Wine

Some time since we stoped at Passaic, N. J., and were really surprised to see the amount of Mr. Speer's stock of grape wine on hand; it is almost fabulous. Four storehouses are filled and tiers upon tiers, of casks, up and down stairs, and in some cases huge vats, occupy every available spot, leaving only little alley ways, through which to walk. It is a vast quantity of wine. None is sold until it has acquired the age of four years, and the buildings, 1, 2, 3, and 4, are of the first, second, third, and fourth years vintage. Our Druggists have supplies of the oldest of the above wine direct from Mr. Speer.—Paterson Guardian.

Anna Katharine Green's latest and best story, "The Forsaken Inn," has been brought out in book form by Robert Bonner's Sons. The authoress of "The Leavenworth Case" has always been considered extraordinarily clever in the construction of mystifying and exciting plots, but in her latest product she has not only eclipsed even herself in her specialty, but has combined with her story-telling gift a fascinating mixture of poetical qualities which makes "The Forsaken Inn" a work of such interest that it will not be laid down by an imaginative reader until he has reached the last line of the last chapter. The scene of the story is the Hudson between Albany and Poughkeepsie, and the time is the close of the eighteenth century. In writing her previous books, the authoress carefully planned her work before putting pen to paper, but this story was written in a white heat, and under the spur of moment of inspiration. The book is charmingly illustrated by Victor Perard.

RHEUMATISM

For More than Twenty-five Years—A Complete Recovery.—The Means Used.

I had Inflammatory Rheumatism. For nearly a year I had to be fed and turned in bed; I could find no relief. My stomach was ruined and cut to pieces with powerful medicines taken to effect a cure as that I was compelled to live on bread and water. I suffered for twenty-five years in this way. I was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y., and thanks to this medicine. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is my best friend. With it I am enabled to enjoy a good night's rest. Also food, such as meat and pastry, which I have been deprived of for years, showing that the Favorite Remedy has no equal for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia as well. If any should doubt this statement I will send the ready proof at once.—Garrett Lansing, Troy, N. Y.

It is my pleasure and absolute duty toward those who are struggling for very life against the deadly to add my testimony to the already weighty evidence of the wonderful efficacy of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My wife was a hopeless case, abandoned by the physicians. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was resorted to; not because any hope was placed in it, but because nothing else remained. All means and medicines had been tested without avail. The effect was little short of a miracle. At the second bottle she had regained strength, and continuing the treatment has fully recovered.—Jay Sweet, Albany, N. Y.
